Many have tried to tell Bible stories as historical fiction. But I have attempted to tell the entire story of the universe, starting with the Bible and integrating history and chronology, legend, and ancient Talmudic tradition, along with a good deal of speculation. My story begins before time, and continues past the ages of time into eternity. It is an adult work, for some of mankind's descent into depravity cannot be sanitized. But it is also a fun work, as I bounce around from our perspective up to the heavenly realms and even down into hell itself. My purpose was not just to tell the story, but also to teach wisdom and to clarify the nature and character of God. I trust each reader will grow in relationship to the God of infinite love, as I have grown in the writing. Volume Three begins with the Children of Israel, led by Joshua, crossing the Jordan and taking Jericho. It ends with the downfall of Israel, and even good King Jotham of Judah hardening his heart at the word of the Lord through Isaiah.

Emphasizing the new documentary cinema, this book features film-makers who belong to the generation born in the 1970s. Many of the interviewees were trained at the National Film School of Denmark's now legendary Department of Documentary and Television. The term 'new' also captures tendencies that cut across the work of the film-makers. For example, for the generation in question, internationalization and the development of a new digital media culture are inevitable aspects of everyday life, and, indeed, of the professional environments in which they operate. A comprehensive overview of documentary directors currently working in Denmark, this is the only book of its kind about this growing area of Danish cinema.

The great Franciscan theologian St. Bonaventure (c.1217-74) engaged in philosophy as well as theology, and the relation between the two in Bonaventure's work has long been debated. Yet, few studies have been devoted to Bonaventure's thought as a whole. In this survey, Christopher M. Cullen reveals Bonaventure as a great synthesizer, whose system of thought bridged the gap between theology and philosophy. The book is organized according to the categories of Bonaventure's own classic text, De reductione artium ad theologiam. Cullen follows Bonaventure's own division of the branches of philosophy and theology, analyzing them as separate but related entities. He shows that Bonaventure was a scholastic, whose mysticism was grounded in systematic theological and philosophical reasoning. He presents a fresh and nuanced perspective on Bonaventure's debt to Augustine, while clarifying Aristotle's influence. Cullen also puts Bonaventure's ideas in context of his time and place, contributing significantly to our understanding of the medieval world. This accessible introduction provides a much-needed overview of Bonaventure's thought. Cullen offers a clear and rare reading of "Bonaventurianism" in and for itself, without the complications of critique and comparison. This book promises to become a standard text on Bonaventure, useful for students and scholars of philosophy, theology, medieval studies, and the history of Christianity.

Hell's Retribution: Lucifer Unbound book 1 Of 3 for adults is an epic fantasy novel, a story of Lucifer who battles heaven's celestials and loses the war. As we all know, he ends up in hell, but he also becomes god of the earth. Interfering in the lives of those on earth, beginning with The Garden, when things don't work out, retribution seems to be Lucifer's answer, at least until he kidnaps an angel, and take her to his private chambers in hell. Intent on seduction in an act of revenge against a certain someone, but what happens when Lucifer is seduced by his own schemes? So, journey through the universe, from the beginning of time as we know it, from the heavens to the The Garden on earth, and outward to the stars and, of course, lest we forget, even down into hell. Herein you will meet a host of interesting and sometimes aggravating characters who include the Fae and the Fallen (angels), Lucifer and Adonai, the Nephilim, and a human soul or two along with a dragon, once one of the heavenly cherubs. I left emergency room nursing and became a mental health counselor for over twenty-two before becoming a writer. Seeing many persons who felt their lives were hopeless and unredeemable, I wondered what would happen if the worst bad-boy of all could be redeemed? What would it take? This is how the story of Lucifer, Light-bringer came to be an epic adventure involving both humans and celestials, on the earth and in the heavens where, unlike some Lucifer stories, Adonai is still the good-guy even though there are a few sensual scenes more real to life than the average 'religious' type novel. This book is not recommended for young children due to certain scenes recommended only for those over 18. _____ Hell's Retribution: Lucifer Unbound, book 1 of 3 by Brandy Marks Reviewed by Jamie Michele of Readers Favorites. February 2021 This is a fantasy novel, the first in Marks' trilogy places its narrative at the launching point: the Old Testament of the Bible. Lucifer was created by God, Adonai Elohim, as the universe is brought to life. Underwhelmed by his station and with his ambition for something greater, he lures the first humans into deceit, cementing their fate alongside his own. Without the constraints of Heaven's rules, he and his cohorts tempt and entice women into sin. From this, a new race is created. One in particular, Anak, is the son of a fallen angel and a fallen woman. He grows up as a devotee of Adonai though his movements on earth are under constant attack. Nevertheless, he remains true, working to convert those who stray, performing rescues in both words and combat. As Anak's successes rise, Lucifer's falter, losing what shred of care he has left in his own war for retribution, at least until near the end when the devil himself does the unimaginable, some say the impossible. Brandy Marks weaves a fantastic tale of an earth inhabited by humans, Fae, demons, angels, dragons, and all manner of fantasy creatures in Hell's Retribution: Lucifer Unbound series. The imagery is exceptional, opening up a world never before seen with a vast landscape and many characters whose development grows through shifting points of view. The writing is, for the most part, tight and clean. The dialogue transitions between very modern back to "biblical speak" sometimes with the same characters, but in the context of the story, its fantasy, at a time that is neither here nor there, it actually works. Marks shines when she is piercing the heart with corruption and lust; a flick of the tongue or a breath to the ear, it's no wonder so few are able to resist—and she is able to effectively instill a message about the eternal war between good and evil, light and dark, and the frailty of man. The book lends space in its back matter for Marks to connect the dots between scripture and script, a nice touch that showed how much thought went into the writing of this novel. My hope is others will be able to enjoy it as much as I have.

Desired States challenges the notion that in some cultures, sex and sexuality have become privatized and located in individual subjectivity rather than in public political practices and institutions. Instead, the book contends that desire is a central aspect of political culture. Based on fieldwork and archival research, Frazier explores the gendered and sexualized dynamics of political culture in Chile, an imperialist context, asking how people connect with and become mobilized in political projects in some cases or, in others, become disaffected or are excluded to varying degrees. The book situates the state in a rich and changing context of transnational and localized movements, imperialist interests, geo-political conflicts, and market forces to explore the broader struggles of desiring subjects, especially in those dimensions of life that are explicitly sexual and amorous: free love movements, marriage, the sixties' sexual revolution in Cold War contexts, prostitution policies, ideas about men's gratification, the charisma of leaders, and sexual/domestic violence against women.
