Gemma, the oldest Steinfeld sister, is marrying her fiancé, Zachary, on Christmas Day. That means that combined with this year's holiday season, a wedding is on the horizon. Even better, the wedding will be in Cape May, New Jersey, the shore town where both The Steinfelds and their next door neighbors and best friends, The Millers, spent every Christmas together since childhood. The two families join forces to prepare for the big weekend and the even bigger wedding day. The only problem? Well...let's just say that the weekend isn't going quite as everyone planned. There are crazy family members, rude hotel staff, missing hair and makeup artists, and a surprisingly large amount of donuts and miniature cupcakes. Not to mention the unruly, but still adorable, Bernese Mountain dog that somehow found his way into the picture. April, the middle Steinfeld sister, is determined to resolve the disasters and save her sister's wedding before it's too late with the help of her best friend, Frankie Miller. To complicate matters, it doesn't help that along the way she starts to see him as more than just a friend and a romance begins to blossom between the two. Filled with sisterhood, humor, and romance, teen author Megan Earling makes her writing debut with a story that shows nothing is perfect, and that sometimes the chaos, not the planning, results in the moments that we will remember forever.
