from long-out-of-print collections not published in the United States, one first appeared in a small press magazine in the 1980s, and the last is appearing here for the first time. Stories included in this collection: In the Glow Zone Problem Child The Ugly Act Mother Love Somebody Calling Invaders Hachette UK A part of the Necroscope saga that tells the story of what occurred during the eight years in which Harry Keogh, a man who can converse with the dead and has discovered the existence of vampires, searched for his lost wife and son. Necroscope: Invaders Tor Books The conclusion to the Necroscope series finds E-Branch and the new Necroscope, Jake Cutter, on the hunt for the Wamphyri trio. After turning a cruise ship into a bloodbath, Lord Malinari and Lady Vavara plan their next campaign, while Lord Swartz's spores spread a mysterious sleeping sickness that turns its victims in something other than human. (May) The Horror at Oakdeene and Others Crossroad Press Jake Cutter, the new Necroscope, has the vampire Korath on his mind, since Korath holds the key to the Mobius equations. But Jake decides to put off vampire hunting while he hunts down the Italian mobsters who killed the woman he loved. But he soon discovers the gangsters are actually vampire-spawn hidden for generations in human guise. Necroscope Macmillan Richard Garrison, a Corporal in the British Military Police, loses his sight while trying to save the wife and child of millionaire industrialist

Thomas Schroeder from a terrorist bomb. While Garrison is recovering from his injuries, Schroeder makes him an offer the young man cannot refuse—refuge at Schroeder's luxurious mountain retreat and rehabilitation from the best doctors who can treat Garrison's blindness and if not cure him at least teach him a new way of life. But Thomas Schroeder has a secret. He is dying and determined not to lose his life. The doctors tell him his body cannot be saved. But about his mind? Garrison's healthy young body would make an excellent replacement for Schroeder's failing corpus, if the machines to perform the operation can be perfected in time. Garrison has no secrets of his own. Since the bombing that caused a loss of his sight, Garrison has become aware of new abilities slowly developing in his mind: mental powers he is beginning to master; strengths Schroeder cannot expect. Richard Garrison and Thomas Schroeder, two strong-willed men locked in battle for the greatest prize-life itself. Things in the ground, thinking their thoughts . . . Thoughts they can express only through Harry Keogh, NECROSCOPE.

For that's Harry's talent, and his burden: he reads the thoughts of the dead in their graves - and the thoughts of the UNdead!
Except . . . the undead are thinking thoughts that are totally-unthinkable!
Yulian

Bodescue's mother fainted at the tomb of Thibor Ferency, vampire.
Corrupt from birth, now Yulian feels a strange compulsion: to discover his real father and spread his works abroad.
Only Harry Keogh, prisoner of the metaphysical Mobius Continuum, can stop him.
Harry's other big problem is this: HE DOESN'T HAVE A BODY!

"He was tall and broad-shouldered, and it was plain to see that in his younger days he had been a handsome man. Now...his hair had greyed a little, and his eyes, though still very bright and observant, bore the imprint of many a year spent exploring—and often, I guessed, discovering—a long rarely trodden path of mysterious, obscure learning." Mysterious, obscure learning... To many thousands of readers world-wide Titus Crow is the psychic sleuth—the cosmic voyager and investigator—of Brian Lumley's Cthulhu Mythos novels, from The Burrowers Beneath to Elysia. But before The Burrowers and Crow's Transition, his exploits were chronicled in a series of short stories and novellas uncollected in the USA except in limited editions. Now these stories can be told again. From Inception which tells of Crow's origins, to The Black Recalled, a tale of vengeance from beyond the grave, here in one volume, from the best-selling author of the epic Necroscope series, is The Complete Crow. Lumley Companion, Lumley aficionados will find an overview of Lumley's career, from his first short fiction up to the present day; essays comparing Lumley and H. P. Lovecraft, a lengthy interview with the author that delves into the heart of Lumley's relationship with the writers and editors who inspired him and the fans who support him, and analyses of Lumley's short fiction and novels. An interview with Bob Eggleton gives insight into the development of his striking covers for the Necroscope series and other Lumley works. This companion also includes complete listings of the first publications of each of Lumley's novels, short fiction, and poetry. Major attractions are the detailed concordances that focus on individual novels and series, including the three Psychomech titles, the Dreamlands and Primal Lands series, and each volume in the Necroscope series. As a special treat, The Brian Lumley Companion includes three short short stories by Brian Lumley, works that have never before appeared in book form.  And that is exactly what this book is: a varied collection of short stories from the acknowledged British master of Horror, Fantasy and Science Fiction, Brian Lumley, in a single volume of all three domains of the imagination - but more especially the haunts of the sinister and macabre! Inspired by the weird tales of the great Edgar Allan Poe, and as some readers might reasonably insist, the even greater H. P. Lovecraft - himself an admirer of Poe - here is a host of rather more modern witcheries from times since the sad demise of many such old masters, based on eras long forgotten before all such tale-tellers so much as existed; concepts spawned in an immemorial past that even now continues to provide the source and fundamentals of similar conceits, such as they were, in the shape of folk legends and the frequently monstrous cautions of so-called "fairy tales," in modes made their own by the antique yarns of the Brother's Grimm, now sadly long-demised - a fact which in itself says a lot for the longevity of these genres! It seemed that the Earth and the Vampire World had been cut off from each other and Earth was safe from the Wampyr. Harry Keogh, the World's saviour, is also dead. Now

Earth is under attack again and the heir to Harry's talent, Jake Cutter, is a reluctant hero. He's out for personal revenge and the fate of the world hangs in the balance. Necroscope V: Deadspawn Macmillan Fantasy-roman. Psychomech Tor Books

The highly-anticipated conclusion to the blood-chilling Vampire World trilogy, begun in Blood Brothers and continued in The Last Aerie. At the height of their

Bent on taking over the Earth, the deadly Thone have planted a monstrous device on our planet's surface. Trapped inside is a group of scientists, spies, and innocent bystanders. Part maze, part torture chamber, part laboratory, the House of Doors is a test. If its captives survive, the Thone will withdraw from Earth and leave us in peace. Survival seems impossible. At every turn of the labyrinth the prisoners encounter alien world and terrifying monsters ripped from their own subconscious fears. Only by defeating the demons within can these men and women escape the House of Doors and save the Earth. At the Publisher's request, this title is being sold without Digital Rights Management Software (DRM) applied. Brian Lumley's The Best of the Rest Macmillan The Nonesuch and Others features a new Brian Lumley hero, the Man With No Name. As stated in the introduction, the Man With No Name "is just an innocent bystander who happens to be standing by in the wrong place at the wrong time: a witness to terrifying occurrences, monstrous events, who can never be one hundred percent positive that the things he has experienced are real. And why not? Because a man who sees pink elephants might as easily see just about anything." Neither hero nor anti-hero, the Man With No Name is narrator of the three stories in this collection, but in The Nonesuch he's at least seen to be brave if not actually heroic. However, "if you the reader were confronted by the bizarre, inexplicable nonesuches whose paths tend to cross his in the following stories...well, how brave would you be?" "Two Stone Tom" Yes, except he was an entire science heavier than that! "The Long Last Night" Was it just a myth - or a Mythos? "The Weird Wines of Naxas Niss" A wizard's stolen potion is another man's gateway to Nirvana...may be! "Stealer of Dreams" Always remember, once they're gone they might stay gone! Maze of Worlds American Library Association Alien beings bent on our destruction have seeded the world with horrible machines capable of transforming our planet into a hellhole where only they can live. Our only hope is to solve the puzzle of a four-dimensional maze, an alien thing that is part building, part machine, and part psychological torture chamber. A few brave men and women--and one fearless dog--dare to enter the maze. What they find there will change their lives forever, as the alien machinery creates terrifying worlds based on their worst nightmares.
