"Translation Studies" presents an integrated concept based on the theory and practice of translation. The author adapts linguistic approaches and methods in such a way that they may be usefully employed in the theory, practice, and analysis of literary translation. The author develops a more cultural approach through text analysis and cross-cultural communication studies. The book is a contribution to the development of translation studies as a discipline in its own right.

The automotive industry is a major pillar of the modern global economy and one of Europe's key industries. There can hardly be any doubt about the important role of this sector as an engine for employment, growth and innovation in Europe, and there are crucial challenges and opportunities ahead. The authors shed light on a broad range of issues - globalisation and restructuring, trade and foreign direct investment, innovation, regulation, and industry policy - and put a special focus on the new member states. While change may be inevitable, progress is not. This book shall serve as a map to all stakeholders: business executives and policy makers, investors and scholars. Edward Elgar Publishing

This book addresses two of the most important trends in political economy during the last two decades - globalization and decentralization - in the context of the world's most rapidly growing economic power, China. The intent is to provide a better understanding of how local political and economic institutions shape the ability of Chinese state-owned firms to utilize foreign direct investment (FDI) to remake themselves in the transition from inefficient and technologically backward firms into powerful national champions. In a global economy, the author argues, local governments are increasingly the agents of industrial transformation at the level of the firm. Local institutions are durable over time, and they have important economic consequences. Through an analysis of five Chinese regions, the treatment seeks to specify the opportunities and constraints that alternative institutional structures create, how they change over time, and ultimately, how they prepare Chinese firms for the challenge of global competition.

A Golden Fleecing Insight Editions

This book discusses cars of the future and the new socio-economic paradigm that they represent. It examines the electromobility revolution in the traditional automotive industry and brings together multidisciplinary expertise to provide insights into the shift towards electromobility. New vehicular technologies may develop in various directions, including the smart car, and this context raises two important questions: will car manufactures maintain control over the industry? And if so, will they be able to come up with sufficiently radical innovations to steer us into the electromobility of tomorrow? One thing is certain: the transition to electromobility will be a revolution. The book's combined approach to understanding this complex reality enables readers to better visualize the possible future directions. It offers anyone interested in electromobility an excellent review of the subject and a useful roadmap to future developments. Tatra Fazi Editore

Mercado John Benjamins Publishing The car industry is considered one of the most archetypal global industries. Nevertheless, it looks more like a world of regions rather than a fully integrated global one. Does regionalism prevail over or complement globalization? Moreover, is there still room for unilateral (go-it-alone) strategies? This volume addresses these questions from the perspective of the car industry, the most important industrial 'carrier' of these developments. Cars, Carriers of Regionalism? provides an integral account of the geo-economic and geo-political dilemmas and opportunities faced by the car industry in developed as well as developing countries at the start of the 21st century. All major regional integration initiatives are covered and their feasibility is assessed, including go-it-alone efforts. This volume - written by leading scholars who have participated to the GERPISA international network's four-year research programme Globalization or Regionalisation for the Auto Industry? - is intended for both academics and practitioners/managers.
